PUBLICIS GROUPE ACQUIRES A MINORITY STAKE OF BRAZILIAN AGENCY TATERKA COMUNICACOES

Paris, March 30, 2010 - Publicis Groupe announced today that it has acquired a minority stake (5%) in Taterka Comunicações (Taterka), an advertising agency based in São Paulo, Brazil. This move once again illustrates Publicis Groupe’s ongoing commitment to strengthen its presence in emerging markets.

The agency, established by Dorian Taterka in 1993, has achieved outstanding performance, in particular by expanding its footprint throughout 18 countries in the Latin America region. With 120 professionals, Taterka is a full-fledged agency, offering services to a broad range of international and Brazilian clients, including McDonald’s (in Brazil and 17 other Latin American markets), Natura (in Brazil and in 4 other Latin American markets), Credit Suisse, BMW, Bayer (men’s health), Bosch (institutional) and Saraiva Bookstore (largest bookstore chain in Latin America).

Taterka will continue to operate on a stand-alone basis and will not be aligned with a Publicis Groupe global advertising network.

About Taterka
Taterka is a full service advertising agency of 120 professionals based in Sao Paulo (Brazil). Since its foundation by Dorian Taterka in 1993, the agency built its reputation through outstanding services to McDonald’s, initially in Brazil and subsequently across Latin America. During the last few years, Taterka expanded its services to a wide number of international and Brazilian clients, including Natura Cosmetics, Credit Suisse, BMW, Bayer, Saraiva bookstore, among others. Their passion for the brands, not to mention precise creativity, strategic counsel and excellent execution, has reflected in continued client satisfaction and market recognition. Taterka is placed among the most reputable agencies of the Brazilian market. Web site: www.taterka.com.br
