PUBLICIS GROUPE ACQUIRES FLIP MEDIA,
A LEADING MIDDLE EASTERN DIGITAL AGENCY

Founded in 2003 and headquartered in Dubai (UAE), Flip Media has more than 100 employees across the Middle East and India, working on a number of iconic brands. The agency provides end-to-end solutions, including digital strategy, digital design/production, content/delivery and technology/platforms. It is responsible for award-winning creative and pioneering technology.

The agency will be folded into Leo Burnett Worldwide and will retain its name. Its founders, Martin Diessner and Dinesh Lalvani, will continue to be involved with the new entity as non-executive directors and Yousef Tuqan will remain CEO, reporting into Leo Burnett’s Middle East North Africa CEO, Raja Trad.

"Flip Media is a strategic and cultural fit for our company, and we believe its service offering of digital strategy, design, production and content delivery will be a perfect complement to the incredibly strong digital presence we have built across the region," said Tom Bernardin, CEO of Leo Burnett Worldwide.

“This acquisition is the logical next step for Flip," said Dinesh Lalvani and Martin Diessner, co-founders, Flip Holdings Ltd. “Integrating with a large network gives us the opportunity to provide a strong foundation for through-the-line communications strategy with digital at its core. We’ve been lucky to have the talent and dedication of a strong management team, which has been integral to the success we’ve had. Being part of Leo Burnett and the larger Publicis Groupe family will bring with it access to more clients, people and resources, all of which are key to take a company like ours to the next level.”
