Maurice Lévy, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Publicis Groupe, said:

“The 9.2% organic growth achieved in the third quarter is partly due to an upturn in the global advertising market, but more importantly, it is the outcome of our investment strategy in two high-growth areas, digital and emerging markets.

Our 12.0% growth in North America is a striking illustration of that strategy's success. Digital now accounts for 44.4% of Publicis Groupe revenue in North America.

A further indication that we are making the right investment choices is our strong performance in the BRIC countries, where revenue growth is up 15.6%. In addition to reshaping our strategy to accelerate growth in China, we have made acquisitions in this country (G4), in India (20:20) and in Brazil (AG2 and Talent Group).

We have every reason to be pleased with our results. Despite traditional fourth-quarter uncertainties, we are confident about how the year will end. I would like to take this opportunity to thank our clients for their confidence, and our teams for their determination, as this is what made the Group’s performance possible.

With competitive strengths like our positions in digital communications and fast growing countries (the two sectors we expect to eventually generate 60% of our revenue), we believe we can and will sustainably outperform the market.”

Meanwhile, the upward trend continued in Europe, with growth of 12.6% in France and 9.3% in the United Kingdom. Although the figures in Germany are still negative, results picked up significantly during the third quarter, while performance is still quite low in Southern Europe. Asia-Pacific is back with high growth rates, particularly in China (24.8%). In Latin America, the growth momentum has continued, driven once again by Venezuela, Mexico, Argentina and Brazil. Business in Africa and the Middle East is back on the path to growth after several quarters of decline caused by the financial crisis in Dubai.

High-growth markets accounted for 22.3% of total revenue, compared with 22.1% at September 30, 2009 (23.4% not counting Razorfish).
Highlights in the first nine months of 2010

New Business: 4.8 billion dollars

Net New Business wins, at 4.8 billion dollars, remain satisfactory and compare to the 4.8 billion dollars reported in the first nine months of 2009.
In the third quarter alone, the following wins are worth noting:
ABN Amro (Netherlands), Glaxo Smith Kline (Europe), H&R Block (USA), Gucci (Europe, Asia), Orbitz (North America), Sony Playstation (USA, LATAM), Telefonica/ O2 (Europe), Travelocity (USA).

External Growth and Strategic Initiatives

After acquiring a minority interest in Taterka Comunicações in Brazil in the first quarter, Publicis Groupe announced its buyout of the G4 agency in China in July, followed by two further acquisitions in Brazil: the digital communications agency AG2 in August, and a 49% stake in Talent Group in October. Publicis Groupe also announced in October the acquisition of 20:20, a public relations agency in India. This makes MSLGROUP India’s leading player in this discipline.
These acquisitions should be seen as a component of the Group’s drive to expand its footprint in emerging markets and fast-growing economies.
Publicis Groupe has undertaken a strategic review of its operations in China to accelerate business growth in a country expected to become the world’s second largest advertising market.

Financial Position at September 30, 2010

At September 30, 2010, Publicis Groupe had net debt of 512 million euro, a figure 277 million lower than at September 30, 2009, and this after repurchasing and immediately cancelling Publicis Groupe shares in the amount of 218 million euro.
Over the first nine months of 2010, average net debt is 666 million euro, down by 295 million from the average net debt for the nine months ended September 30, 2009.
At September 30, 2010, Publicis Groupe had available liquidity of 3.6 billion euro (not including 231 million in uncommitted facilities).

Outlook

The latest ZenithOptimedia figures confirm the steady improvement from quarter to quarter in the global advertising market. The full-year growth outlook for 2010 has been revised upwards – from 3.5% to 4.8% according to the most recent estimate. This comforts the IMF projections which raised global GDP forecast to 4.6% in July.
The very high growth achieved by Publicis Groupe in the last three quarters, its large roster of New Business wins, and its excellent positions in digital communications and emerging markets all provide solid foundations for sustainable above market growth for the years to come.
In order to serve its clients more effectively in a rapidly changing world, Publicis Groupe is investing in both talent and technology, to ensure growth acceleration.

Publicis Groupe should once again outperform the market in terms of growth in 2010.
